What to expect

First, we conduct a thorough assessment of your organization's current security and privacy protocol. Our team examines your technical, compliance, and risk management environments to gain a holistic perspective and inform next steps.

Our evaluation will arm your team with a clear understanding of existing vulnerabilities, effective resolutions, and a plan for managing key metrics going forward.

After we collaborate with you to establish a set of information security needs and goals, Quest experts will support you in identifying a well-suited governance framework. We utilize a diverse range of governance frameworks, including:

- International Organization for Standardization (e.g., ISO 27001/27002)
- National Institute of Standards and Technology (e.g., NIST SP800-53)
- Governmental standards, such as FISMA, NERC-CIP, HIPAA/HITECH and others
- Cybersecurity Maturity Model Certification (CMMC)
- Industry best practices from the SANS Institute, ISACA, ISC2

If none of the widely-used options are the right fit, our expert team will work with you to adapt or combine a standard framework. Or, we can develop a customized unified controls framework to fit even the most unique of needs.

Once a framework has been established, Quest can then support you with relevant compliance and governance services, such as:

- Data and system classification
- Technical and operational security risks
- Cybersecurity policy and governance
- Strategies for shifts in business conditions
- Internal security
- Physical security
- Compliance, legal, and regulatory exposure
- Business continuity
- Executive management engagement
- Wireless communications
